

HANNA GLENN

1602 Fishburne Drive, Atlanta, GA 30033

☎ 907-301-5447 ✉ hkagele@emory.edu  hanna-glenn  hannaglenn  <https://hannaglenn.netlify.app/>

Fields

Health Economics, Labor Economics. I am currently a fifth year graduate student in the department of economics.

Education

Emory University

Ph.D. in Economics

M.A. in Economics

- Cumulative GPA: 3.91

Atlanta, GA

Spring 2025 (Expected)

Fall 2022

Georgia College & State University

B.S. in Economics and Mathematics

- Cumulative GPA: 3.9

Milledgeville, GA

Spring 2019

PhD Coursework

First Year Sequence:

- Micro Theory I & II
- Macro Theory I & II
- Probability Theory and Statistical Inference
- Econometrics I

Field Coursework:

- Econometrics II
- Supply-Side Health Economics
- Demand-Side Health Economics
- Advanced Microeconometrics
- Labor Economics
- Empirical Industrial Organization
- Teaching Economics
- Market Structure & Imperfect Competition

Peer-Reviewed Publications in Economics

1. Chatterji, P., Glenn, H., Markowitz, S., & Montez, J. K. (2023). Affordable Care Act Medicaid expansions and maternal morbidity, Health Economics.

Working Papers

Labor Markets and Technological Change: Evidence from Electronic Health Records | Under Review

Clinical Experience in Hospital Leaders: does it matter? | Work in Progress

Telehealth and Health Care Utilization: Non-COVID Evidence from Internet Access | Work in Progress

Research/Teaching Experience

Emory University

Research Assistant: Evan Saltzman, Ph.D.

- I am working with Professor Saltzman on a paper that extends current structural work in health insurance markets to a dynamic problem.

Research Assistant: Sara Markowitz, Ph.D.

- I completed extensive background research on the ACA expansion at the state level. I gathered and cleaned Vital Statistics birth certificate data in order to examine the impact of the 2010 ACA expansion on maternal and infant health outcomes. I assist in coding analyses and interpreting results.

Teaching Assistant: Professor Hashem Dezhbakhsh

- I attend and assist with an introductory Principles of Microeconomics course with approximately 200 students. I hold weekly office hours and host a collaborative review session for all students prior to each exam.
- I oversee and regularly communicate with five undergraduate TAs as they hold occasional office hours, grade homework assignments, and help with in-classroom experiments.

Atlanta, GA

Spring 2023 - Fall 2023

Spring 2021 - Fall 2022

Fall 2021 - 2023

Guest Lecturer, Undergraduate Honors Research Workshop

Fall 2020 – 2023

- For four class sessions, I give lectures on foundational skills in research, including how to have a personalized workflow, how to think of a research question, how to make research replicable, and how to formulate motivation.

Grader

Fall 2020

- Graduate level Microeconomic Theory I, taught by Professor Teddy Kim.

Georgia College & State University

Milledgeville, GA

Supplemental Instructor

Spring 2016 – Fall 2017

- For Calculus I and II, I held study sessions twice a week for students to come ask questions, review the material, test their understand, and collaborate with other students.

Conference Presentations

American Society of Health Economists, St. Louis, June 2023

Young Economist Symposium, Yale University, Fall 2022

Emory Graduate Student Presentations, Virtual, Fall 2021

Academy of Economics and Finance, Tampa, FL, Fall 2018

Awards/Honors

Emory University 3-Minute-Thesis Competition Runner-Up, Spring 2023

Emory Department of Economics Excellence in Teaching Award, Spring 2022

Technical Skills

Software: R, Stata, Python, L^AT_EX, Microsoft Office

References

Ian McCarthy, Committee Chair

Associate Professor

Department of Economics, Emory University

✉ ian.mccarthy@emory.edu

Sara Markowitz, Committee Member

Professor

Department of Economics, Emory University

✉ smarko2@emory.edu

Evan Saltzman, Committee Member

Assistant Professor

Department of Economics, Emory University

✉ evan.saltzman@emory.edu

Hashem Dezhbakhsh

Chair and Goodrich C. White Professor

Department of Economics, Emory University

✉ econhd@emory.edu